An Off Day with the Ball Players, Only Two League Contests Being Recorded.

Washington Defeats Detroit, and Boston Proves Too Strong for Chicago-Racing at Washington Park and Brighton Beach.

DETROIT, Mich., July 9 .- Poor fielding tells the story of the champions' defeat for the second time by the Washingtons. With two men out in the tenth, Donnelly hit an easy one to White, who threw wild to first. Donnelly stole second and scored the winning run on Hoy's single. Richardson wrenched his ankle in the first inning and was replaced by Ganzell.

CHICAGO, July 9.-Very bad and costly fielding errors, of which three belong to Anson, and an inability to hit the ball at the right time are the causes for Chicago's defeat to-day. Boston did not play any too well, either, but just enough to win by a small lead. Tate was away catching. The ground was too muddy for a lively game. Two thousand saw the con-

Base-Ball Notes. Official scorer Johnson has been notified by President Young not to count bases on balls as errors hereafter.

Sporting Life: Of all the young players seared by League clubs last fall, Buckley, the Indianapolis catcher, is one of the best finds in Delehanty, Philadelphia's promising young second baseman, will play with the team to-day and Bastian will be laid off. Fogarty will play third and Sanders right field.

The Indianapolis club has thirteen more games to play before going East—one with Philadelphia and three each with New York, Washington, Chicago and Pittsburg. The Washingtons have notified President

Young that they have accepted the services of Ezra Sutton. They will be required to make a contract with him within ten days from the date of his release from Boston. Otherwise they forfeit their claim to him. Where is Burdick! That is the question which is werrying a great many people who have been expecting to get a glympse of the In-dianapolis club's new pitcher for several days past. He was to have arrived last Friday, but has not yet put in an appearance. A League umpire said, a few days ago: "Indianapolis has no cause to complain of the crowds at her games, for they are that way everywhere. Chicago, New York, Boston and Cincinnati are the only places where any money is being made on base-ball. The fact that it is a campaign year is partly responsible for this."

Rain yesterday caused a postponement of the game between the Philadelphia and Indianapolis clubs, making the fourth contest between the clubs that has been interfered with in like manner. The last game of the present series between the two teams will be played this afternoon, with the some batteries that were announced for yesterday-Buffinton or Gleason for Philadelphia, and Boyle or Shreve for the

A close estimate shows that 75,000 people witnessed the fourteen League and Association games played on Independence day-44,000 for the League and about 31,000 for the Association. The Phillies at Chicago proved the best attraction, no less than 20,000 persons paying 50 cents each to see them play. The New York club drew 14,000 persons in two games at Detroit, and the Athletic club called out 12,000 people to see two games at St. Louis.

Not content with the work of Whitney, the New York management intend to strengthen third base, and for that purpose Jim Knowles, of Jersey City, will be transferred to New York to take charge of the bag. Knowles has been playing great ball in the Central League, and his work has been closely watched by President Day and Manager Matrie. Foster, Crane and Hatfield or Whitney will be transferred to Jersey City. They are getting rusty, and this step is made necessary to give them some work. If at any time, their services are needed by the Giants it will be a simple matter to take them

Among the cases to be considered at the forthcoming meeting of the League board of directors at Atlantic City, will be the New York-Pittsburg forfeited game, the Philadelphia-Pittsburg protest, Barney Gilligan's claim for salary due from the Washington club while under suspension last season, Sullivan's appeal for a remittal of the fine imposed upon him at Indianapolis for his alleged scrap with Dude Esterbrook, and such other matters as come under the jurisdiction of the directors. By that time also Anson may have a dozen or more of protested games on hand. The big Chicagoan has of late become the great "protester."

International Sharp-Shooters. NEWARK, N. J., July 9.—The annual shooting contest and festival of the International Sharpshooters was begun here to-day. Rain seriously interfered with the programme. Notwithstanding the rain 4,300 people were present from New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, San Francisco, Boston, and other parts of the country. The visi-tors assembled at the Academy of Music and marched to the City Hall, where they were welcomed by the Mayor. Gottfried Krueger, a Newark brewer, and president of the bundes, responded to the Mayor's welcome. Mr. Julius Stapperie, buides president, also responded. From the City Hail the paraders went to the park. Shooting began at 1 o'clock, and will continue daily until Saturday, when the prizes will be distributed. The wet grounds prevented fancy shooting, and a mist obscured the targets. It will be nearly impossible to give accurate scores before Friday. David Miller, of the Miller Rine Club, of Hoboken, received from Secretary William Hays a certificate stating that he won the silver medal for the first twentyfive points. To-morrow singing societies will be present and give a concert, and Prof. E. D. Hogan, an aeronaut, is announced to ascend in a balloon from Schutzen Park. On Wednesday many distinguished persons are expected to be present, including President Cleveland, several members of his Cabinet, Governor Green, ## and other prominent officials of New Jersey. Extra Day at Washington Park.

CHICAGO, July 9 .- An extra day's racing was given at Washington Park, to-day. The track was deep in mud, the attendance light, and the contending horses of poor quality. The results were as follows: The first was a selling race for two-year-olds, purse $400, six forlongs. Mand Ward was an easy winner by three lengths from Cassandra; Rolland Hawley a poor third. T-Traces of precipitation. "One Grover Cleveland."

OMAHA, Neb., July 9.-The President of the United States is referred to as "one Grover Cleveland" in a petition for a partition of real estate filed yesterday by Alice R. Folsom, Emma C. Folsom, Frances C. Cleveland, Emma Folsom, Wm. R. Folsom, Benj. F. Folsom, Alixe Sophronia Folsom and Mary Augusta Martin, against Mary R. Folsom, N. R. Folsom, Helen Ferris, Benjamin R. Folsom, deceased. The plaintiffs claim an undivided half of fifty certain lots in Omaha. Their interest was obtained through the will of John B. Folsom, who died May 19, 1886, in Wyoming county, New York. The defendants derive their interest from the will of their father, Benj. R. Folsom, who died Nov. 20, 1882, in Burt county, Ne braska. John and Benjamin Folsom owned the property in question jointly. The widow of the latter accepted certain benefits in lieu of a dower, and John left no widow. The petition says that the property yields little more than enough to improve it. It asks the court to appoint a referee to divide the property between the two sets of beirs in halves of equal value. The petition says the plaintiff Frances C. Cleveland is the same person as the Frances C. Folsom named as one of the devisees in said will, she having since the date thereof intermarried with one Grover Cleveland.

Murdered and Thrown in the Ohio. LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 9.-Captain Frank Dougherty, of the steamer Kangaroo, reported this evening finding and leaving at the shore near the water-works above the city the body of a murdered man. The coroner went up and viewed the remains preparatory to an inquest. The body was that of a man twenty-five years of age, clean shaven except a light sandy mustache and weighing 150 to 160 pounds. His throat was cleanly cut from ear to ear, and his feet were bound with a quarter-inch rope, one end of which was untwisted and trailed in the water, seven feet long. There were deep gashes on each side of the face, one in the temple and the other a httle further forward, cutting out the eyes. Also, the body was beaten and bruised as if by the poll of an axe from the collar-bone down to the waist. The only clothing was a fine checked linen shirt, with pearl studs and a gold button at the throat. A stone had been attached to keep the body under water. It had evidently been in the river but a week or ten days, though it could not have floated far with the stone. There is no clue to the identity. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

The Case of Murderer Brooks, Sr. Louis, July 9.-To-day was the time set apart by Governor Morehouse to hear argument by the attorneys of Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, for the commutation of sentence for the murder of Preller, but the Governor had received such a number of appeals, petitions and letters from all parts of the State, which he thought the attorneys ought to examine before beginning their argument that he postponed the argument until to-morrow. Mrs. Brooks and her daughter had an interview with the Governor, however, and made an earnest appeal to him to save their son and brother from the gallows. He listened to them attentively, and said he would give the case the benefit of his very best judgment, and invited them to be present at the hearing to-morrow. He said he would also be glad to hear anything further which they might desire to present to him. That Sulphurous Gentleman Facetiously designated as "Old Nick" seems to be at the elbows of people, who day in and day out damage their teeth with burtful tooth pastes, powders and washes. The recorded experience of thirty years designates Sozodont as the only lowances, one and one sixteenth mile. Fawine | real desideratum.

MATTERS AT THE CAPITAL

A Missouri Statesman Succeeds in Rousing the Wrath of Gen. A. P. Hovey.

List of Indianians Whose Applications for Pensions Have Been Granted-Nominations by the President-Capital Notes.

HOVEY'S WRATH.

Bland, of Missouri, Successfully Objects to a Marine Hospital at Evansville, special to the Indianapolis Journal

Washington, July 9 .- General Hovey made an unsuccessul attempt this afternoon to call up and pass a bill for the construction of a marine hospital at Evansville. There was no objection manifested, except in one quarter. Mr. Bland, of Missouri, who poses as a reformer, but acts the arrant demagogue upon every occasion, did not object when unanimous consent was asked, but the moment the bill was in the hands of the clerk he moved to adjourn. He was hooted down emphatically, but returned to the fight and filibustered the time away until the hour of 5 o'clock arrived, when it was too late and the bill went over. General Hovey appealed to him on the score of humanity and in behalf of hundreds of patients gathered at Evansville to refrain from adopting filibustering tactics, but it was of no avail; he declined to listen, and insisted upon obstruction. As a consequence, General Hovey has decided to array himself in his war-paint. He says he will hold the Democratic party in the House responsible for Bland, and that from this time on to the end of the session he will play the role of objector and will defeat all attempts to secure unanimous consent on the part of any of the Democrats. If the Republican side will adopt this course they will be able to force a change in the rules which will abolish the one-man power which now throttles legisla-

MINOR MATTERS.

The Senate Tariff Committee Brings Out a . New Feature in Silk Manufacture. WASHINGTON, July 9.-The Sepate tariff committee gave hearing, to-day, to the manufacturers of cuffs and collars, of crincline cloths and tarletans, and to parties interested in the silk schedule. Incidentally a new and interesting feature of the Chinese (or, more properly, the Japanese) cheap labor problem was developed. The silk men stated that there is on sale in the New York market silk manufactured and printed in Japan, similar in quali-ty to that produced in Lyons, and they prom-ised to send fuller evidence is documentary form to the committee. Their argument in this connection is that silk manufacturers are opening establishments in the East to get the benefit of the cheap labor of those countries, with which, they say, it would be impossible for Americans to compete on even terms.

GENERAL SHERIDAN.

He Passes a Quiet Day at Nonquitt, and His Condition Is Satisfactory.

Nonquitt, Mass., July 9.-The day passed very quietly at Nonquitt, and owing to the rain and easterly wind but few visitors have been to the place. The interest in the welfare of Gen. Sheridan continues unabated, and many inquiries have been made concerning his condition. Dr. O'Reilly, who was with the General during the voyage from Washington, left Nonquitt for the capital to-day on account of business engagements, and his place has been taken | NATURAL GAS LINE PIPE, DRIVE PIPE, TUBING, CASING, BOILER TUBES, of the manufacture of the by Dr. Washington Matthews. The following bulletin was issued this evening at 9 o'clock:

"Notwithstanding the apparent fatigue of Ceneral Sheridan's disembarkation from the Swatara, he had a tolerably fair night, being slightly restless at times. His condition to-day has been as satisfactory as could have been expected. His pulse has been good, his respiration is better, and his appetite, which was not so good the last two days on ship-board, has increased. He recognizes the fact that he is at home at Nonquitt, and is much pleased with his surroundings.

"Washington Matthews, "Henry C. Yarrow."

What Nomuitt Is Like.

Special to New York Times. Since it was first stated that there was no more than a bare possibility of General Sheridan's removal to his cottage here interest in Nonquitt has increased with every day and a general desire is expressed to know the special characteristics of Nonquitt that prompted the removal of the General such a long distance. In the first place it is not through choice of the doctors, or by invitation of any one desirous of booming a resort with an eye to future profitsfor the north and south poles are not more distant from each other than Nonquitt and a boom-that he comes. It is Sheridan's greatest desire to occupy his new cottage, and he likes Nonquitt and longs to reach it, so that when a change from Washington became necessary he determined to attempt the long journey for the sake of being here again, and he has great faith in the healing power of Nonquitt air.

It is really a very healthy place. Before a week passes new arrivals lose their distinguishing marks, a healthy hue appears on faces that were white and tired looking, and in a few weeks you can hardly believe these same people ever could have a pain or ache. It is a great place for sleep. The utmost quiet and retirement prevail, and no hermit could find more complete solitude than a residence here, providing it is desired. There is no railroad within six miles and no telegraph office nearer. There is a telephone line over which telegrams are sent from New Bedford., and for a place of its size considerable stock speculation goes on. A stanch little steamer, commanded by one of New Bedford's old sea captains, who will tell long yarns of the ocean on sufficient provocation, comes down Buzzards bay to the wharf four times each day bringing passengers, twice each day carrying mails, and twice bringing them. This is the extent of the excitement

Approaching from the bay Nonquitt shows plainly what it is, just 50 or 60 very common looking summer cottages straggling in a crazy. irregular fashion over a great meadow shaded with red top. It doesn't look like a village even, for there's only one road, and that sweeps up

A long two-story hotel in the background is controlled and owned by the syndicate of men who first started Nonquitt and who still retain management of all affairs. The hotel is a very summery affair, gaunt and bare, except where it has been decorated in Japanese Christmas fashion with fans and ropes of evergreen. But it is admirably managed, and always in a manner to secure the most rest for its guests. There are no cottages where boarders are taken and all but a few are leased for the season already. The view from the roof of the Hotel Nonquitt includes Fall River, New Bedford, Fair Haven, Marion, the chain of Elizabeth Islands, and Naushon, where J. Malcolm Forbes is located and gives lively hunting parties with simon pure deer for game, and three light-houses shine out into the darkness of the night from Cuttyhunk, Naushon and Clark's Point.

There have always been more or less artists and people with tendencies in that direction here. The scenery is wonderfully varied for a flat country. R. Swain Gifford, a New Bedford man, has the quaintest possible studio here. It is built on a great pudding stone for underpinning that the woodbine almost covers. It has a piece of old carving from the stern of some whaling ship over the front windows and another piece from a cabin over the door. Gifford is often out tramping over the fields and woods back of Nonquitt with his gun and dog. Quail and partridge are plentiful.

General Harrison's Acknowledgment to South Bend. South Bend Tribune.

The Tribune telegraphed the congratulations of the Republicans of South Bend and St Joseph county to General Harrison on the day of his nomination, and General Harrison replied by mail as follows: INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 3, 1888.

To the Editor of the South Bend Tribune. Dear Sir-Please accept my hearty thanks for your self and the Republicans of the old home of one of Indiana's greatest and most highly honored men, for the cordial and earnest words of congratulation and promise contained in your telegram of the 25th ult. Very truly yours. BENJ. HARRISON.

His graceful reference to the late Vice-president Colfax will be highly appreciated here. It is worth noting right here that as long ago as in February, 1876, when Mr. Colfax predicted that Hayes would be the presidential nominee of the Cincinnati convention, he also predicted that General Harrison would be President some day. He classed him then as among the ablest of the younger politicians and statesmen of the coun-

The Champion Mud-Thrower. Philadelphia American.

The Sentinel, of Indianapolis, which cursed in its editorial columns the judges of the Supreme Court who yielded to the force of Mr. Harrison's law and logic, and decided against their own party in the matter of the lientenant-governorship, might be expected to begin the mud-throw ing part of the campaign. It found last week that General Harrison showed himself a bloodthirsty monster in the great railroad strikes of 1877, and invoked the votes of the working men against him. Unhappily for the Sentinel, there are some scores of working men in Indianapolis who can testify that it was General Harrison's efforts which helped to save them from imprisonment in 1877, as he urged upon Judge Drummond that the law had accomplished its end when it had made them recognize the necessity of obeying it. Ex-Senator McDonald, who was associated with him in the successful efforts to keep the peace through the militia, comes forward to declare that he can recall no utterances of General Harrison's at that time which were of the "blood-thirsty" character alleged. And so the Sentinel is badly wounded by the recoil of its own discharge.
